JANUARY 14 DINNER TOPIC

Guest Speaker Janet Caliri, Certified Life Coach
"Curiosity & Productivity ~ Putting your smart phone to work!"

Sometimes having big plans and awesome potential doesn't necessarily translate into the realization of those dreams and goals.

We might wonder what causes the disconnect? What stands in the way of us realizing our innate gifts?

To add to this dilemma we have also become enslaved by the very technology that was intended to liberate us, taking essential time and attention away from the things that really matter.

In this informative talk, Janet will share how to take back your personal power and get connected using two things most of us already possess:

curiosity and a smart phone.

With a background in leading emotional intelligence workshops as well as leadership and transformational trainings, Janet will share with us how to de-escalate stress and trauma, enhance creativity and do business from a place of calm, joy and personal power.

In this fun, thought-provoking & interactive presentation, you will:

- Confidently meet conditions that trigger resistance and tension with enhanced awareness and alignment
- Increase productivity and vitality using a smartphone camera
- Communicate more effectively and confidently with clients and prospects
- Learn to diffuse emotional triggers, allowing you to be truly present with the people in your life ~ be it in business or otherwise.

Invite your female friends & business women!
