APRIL 14 'VIRTUAL' MEETING

Featuring

Andrea Devaux

Speaking Coach | Director | Author

From the boardroom to the newsroom, nearly every job requires speaking in front of a group. In this age of political correctness and viral social media moments, "winging it" can be a risky business. It's no wonder that three out of four people suffer from speech anxiety. Whether you're just looking to improve your elevator pitch or preparing for a national media campaign, Andrea's step-by-step coaching provides a complete checklist for how to say what you came to say and not be led off topic. Do NOT miss this virtual event! Details below...
