'Embodied Leadership' Navigating a
post-pandemic world'
in our first post-pandemic
dinner event at Cafe Verde

Most of us had to pivot hard during the pandemic. Essential workers continued working (harder than ever!) whilst some folks became instant (dare we say, reluctant) homeschooling parents. A few thrived, jumping into crisis management mode, helping others who were struggling. Regardless of each individual's experience, many fought burnout, adrenal fatigue and lack of self-care. AND we ALL felt the discomfort of sitting in the unknown.

Even as we begin to see a light at the end of the tunnel, we know there is no going back to "normal". Therefore this is a golden opportunity to create a new post pandemic paradigm—one in which the gifts of Female Leadership regain value, power and support. In this informative talk Michelle Maree will explore ways for us to shore ourselves up and prepare to create a new path for our loved one, our communities, and ultimately for the world.
